

RELATIONAL DATABASES

Semester: I (Fall)
Stage: 2
Number of Credits: 4 semester credits/6 quarter units

Aims and Objectives

- Design a database which obeys rules of relational database design;
- Distinguish between data and information and to appreciate the importance of information and information flow to an organisation;
- Design a database which permits maximum extraction of information;
- use SQL to extract information from data;