

Universidad de Salamanca
Trimester Program

Course Title: Spanish and Latin American Literature
Contact hours: 50 (approx. 3 semester credits)

Course Content:

The objective is to gain knowledge from the work of some of the most representative authors of Spanish and Latin American Literature in the XX century, and study its relation with the socio-cultural context of each epoch. To review the most important literary currents through a text selection, corresponding to the different genres: poetry and theater in the first decades of the century and the novel in the 40's.