

Universidad de Salamanca
Summer Program

Course Title: Spanish Written Skills
Contact hours: 20

Course Content:

In this course, students are taught to use writing as a tool for achieving a variety of communicative objectives. The skill of writing is learned through comprehension and production of different text types (narrative, descriptive, argumentative, formal letter-writing, and others). By making the structural characteristics of each text explicit and analyzing the cognitive processes behind them, students will learn how to search for ideas, plan, outline, and compose written texts.