THIS CLASS MEETS: MON/WED, 5-7pm

OBJECTIVES

The main objective of this Course is the study of Spanish Letters of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. In this sense, special attention will be paid to those set readings which appear on the syllabus, as well as to other representative texts from the periods concerned, while framing them effectively in terms of their historical context, of literary movements, or of thematic tendencies in each case, with the aim of providing students with a basic, overall vision of both centuries.

SYLLABUS

1. An Introduction to the Spain of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries. A Synthesis of Key Historical Events.
2. Eighteenth-Century Spanish Literature. The Enlightenment in Spain. Prose: Cadalso and Jovellanos. Drama: Moratín. Poetry: Meléndez Valdés.

12. Post-War Literature.
13. Contemporary Tendencies: from the Post-War Period to the Present Day.

COMPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES

- During the semester different places of interest within the city of Sevilla, to which poets make reference in their work, will be visited, as a way of providing back-up to the set texts themselves.
- Listening sessions with recordings of compositions recited by the actual authors concerned, or by author-singers, will also be organized.
- Movies and filmed theatrical performances, adapted from works which form part of the syllabus, will also be screened: Don Juan Tenorio, La casa de Bernarda Alba, Los santos inocentes..., thus allowing for a comparative exploration of specific novels or plays and their screen adaptation.

SET READINGS

Zorrilla, José: Don Juan Tenorio (ed. de Luis Fernández Cifuentes). Barcelona: Crítica, 1994.
