

Prof. Dr. Ángel Jiménez Fernández (ajimfer@us.es)Prof. Dr. Manuel Padilla Cruz (mpadillacruz@us.es)Objectives

This Course is geared toward students who speak American English and who have no prior knowledge of Spanish. Its overall objective is to develop students' capacity to express themselves orally and in written form, within routine sociolinguistic contexts, so that they can come to terms with them and cope adequately with them, the contrast with their mother tongue acting as a point of contrast. Our endeavor is to enable students to initiate and keep up a conversation using limited vocabulary content, to produce phrases and basic conversational routines in a spontaneous way, to narrate and describe routine social situations, as well as to draft basic written forms, while keeping in mind orthographic, lexical and syntactic correctness, as well as pragmatic appositeness. Likewise, students will be provided with the chance to develop their comprehension skills in Spanish, becoming thereby adept at understanding real-life oral discourse adjusted to their level.

Methodology

This Course will have as its basis a communicative approach so as to favor the active participation of students, while encouraging the practical application of information and skills as they are being acquired in real time. With this in mind, class sessions will be structured in terms of lecturers' explanations which will be backed up by involvement in practical activities in pairs and groups (role-play, written drafts, games, debates, etc.).

Assessment

A) Final Assessment:

Two oral and written examinations will be set, one mid-way through the Course and the other at its conclusion, their aim being to gauge oral and written skills.

B) On-going Assessment:

Account will be taken of written assignments – composition work and the production of texts of different kinds - which students will hand in on a weekly basis, while active participation in class sessions will also be valued positively.

C) Final Assessment and Grading Criteria

Final grades will be based on the total derived from both the following areas:

- The two oral and written examinations will cover 75% of the final grade.
- Regular attendance and active participation in oral activities during class sessions will cover the remaining 25% of the final grade.
